HOW TO GAIN TIME

Set that clock back one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday, says Sharon Olson of Trophy Jewellers Ltd., 531 Bernard Ave., who joins with the rest of her fellow Canadians in making the annual fall conversion back to standard time. Time changes vary from province to province and region to region, with Newfoundland and New Brunswick making the switch one minute past midnight Sunday, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia change at midnight Saturday, with Quebec changing at 2 a.m. Sunday, the same as British Columbia and Ontario.

Manitoba clocks will be set back Sunday at 3 a.m., while in Saskatchewan the conversion will be made at one minute after midnight Sunday. The eastern half of the country remains unchanged on standard time, and there is no provision for daylight time in Alberta. (Courier photo)

Death Toll May Reach 13 After Sea Crash Off U.K.

VENTNOR, Isle of Wight (AP) — Tugs grounded the sinking wreck of the giant oil tanker Pacific Glory on a shoal today with flames still spewing from the 42,777-ton hull, ripped open by deadly explosions. Five sailors were killed in the flaming blasts. Eight more from the crew of 42 are still missing and feared dead. A search for survivors by six helicopters and 16 rescue ships was partly called off after tugs took the crippled ship, loaded with 70,000 tons of crude oil, in tow. The Liberian-registered ship collided Friday night with another tanker, the 46,402-ton Allegro, four miles off this island on England's south coast. The Allegro suffered only minor damage. Hundreds of spectators watched from shore as the Pacific Glory was taken in tow, her bows barely above water. Greasy smoke from the wreck could be seen at Portsmouth, 25 miles away.

RESCUE 23 CREW MEMBERS "It was hell," said the tanker's Dutch pilot, Capt. Jan Fruddiger, at a Royal Navy hospital where he was taken with the 23 rescued crew members, most of them Chinese.

Three explosions tore open the ship's hull about three hours after the collision. "We had no time to send a pilot. The ship went straight up. There was no hope for anyone in the engine room. Those of us that were left alive had to get away at once. I jumped into a lifeboat and we rowed as hard as we could."

Some of the Chinese crew, he said, leaped over the side into the blazing sea without waiting for orders to abandon ship. Five of them were severely injured and many swallowed corrosive crude oil as they swam to safety.

Fruddiger had boarded the Pacific Glory only hours before the collision to steer the vessel to Tmsterdam.

Chile Leftist Elected Chief

SANTIAGO (AP) — Congress today elected Senator Salvador Allende, a Marxist who has pledged to bring socialism to Chile, as president for the next six years.

Police and troops imposed the tightest security in years during the balloting, made necessary when Allende won the Sept. 4 presidential election but failed to get the required majority.

The vote was 153 for Allende and 35 for the runner-up candidate, former president Jorge Alessandri, a conservative independent. There were seven blank ballots. Only five of the 50 senators and 150 House members were absent.

Among the absent members was Allende, who stayed home, confident of victory. He was entitled to vote for himself had he attended. Four others were ill.

A state of emergency was declared throughout the country Thursday after Maj.-Gen. Rene Schneider, commander-in-chief of the Chilean army, was shot and critically wounded by four or five terrorists as he was being driven to the defence ministry. The 57-year-old general remained in critical condition today following two operations to remove three bullets.

Foe Of Organized Religion Crashes Plane Into Church

SAN JUAN, Tex. (Reuter) — Friends and neighbors shed light on the strange life and still stranger death of Frank Alexander, who crashed a small plane into a Roman Catholic church here Friday in an apparent protest against organized religion.

Alexander, 52, part-time flying instructor and unemployed teacher, died when his rented Piper Cherokee smashed into the roof of St. John's Catholic Church.

About 60 persons—priests and parishioners celebrating mid-day mass—lashed to safety as the roof fell on the altar and flames destroyed the huge, Gothic church.

Rev. E. A. Ballard, chancellor of the Brownsville diocese, estimated the loss at $1.5 million. Only minutes before the crash, Alexander had calmly radioed the airport control tower at nearby Callen to warn the fire department that all Catholic and Methodist churches in the area should be evacuated at once. "It's all part of a series plot," he said.

FEW KNEW HIM Few people in this tightly-knit community in the Rio Grande Valley claimed acquaintance with Alexander.

"He was a loner and a devout Christian," said a mechanic at Callen airport who claimed to have spent hours talking with Alexander about God. "I believe his action was a gesture against organized religion."

"Alex felt that money and politics should be kept out of the church. He felt strongly that you had to live by the golden rule. He refused to compromise, and that caused him to be frustrated most of the time."

Top American Space Experts May Co-operate With Russians

MOSCOW (Reuter) — Leading American space experts arrived here today for first-ever talks with the Russians on the possibility of future space co-operation.

The five-man team is headed by Robert Gilruth, director of the U.S. Manned Spacecraft Centre in Houston, and Arnold Frutkin, assistant administrator for internal affairs at the U.S. space agency. The talks will be held Monday and Tuesday.

Western sources said the Soviet team at the talks would be headed by Prof. Boris Petrov, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences and an expert on automatic control systems.

They said it also would include Soviet cosmonaut Konstantin Feoktistov, who now is deputy director of the Soviet program on manned spacecraft. The ability to join up American and Soviet spacecraft would open up a wide range of co-operative activities in space, including joint missions.

Santa Cruz Accused Guarded

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Armed guards in pairs are posted at each corner of the building in which a young man, who says he is innocent, is jailed on charges of slaying five persons execution-style. Sheriff Douglas James and his deputies said they know of no threats against John Linley Frazier, 24, but are taking no chances.

Frazier pleaded not guilty Friday when he was arraigned on charges of murdering Dr. Victor Ohta, 45; his wife, Virginia, 43; their sons Derrick, 12, and Taggart, 11, and the eye surgeon's secretary, Dorothy Cadwallader, 38.

The armed deputies were stationed at the three-story downtown building housing the jail and sheriff's office a few minutes after Frazier was booked there on five counts of first-degree murder.

PRECAUTIONS HEAVY Floodlights were installed for extra security.

Sheriff Douglas James held a news conference outside the jail to announce details of Frazier's capture at dawn Friday in a former "one-cow milk barn," a half-mile from the $250,000 Ohta mansion on a hilltop overlooking Monterey Bay.

For the arraignment, the Santa Cruz courthouse was cleared of visitors, and officers checked credentials and searched reporters and spectators before admitting them to the heavily-guarded building.

Teachers have a captive audience in the classroom, and therefore are more cautious," he said.

"In addition, teachers have to meet groups of children every day and carry on intelligent conversations with them."

"I don't think there will be any trouble, and I believe the government's proclamation will be treated with caution."

SUVA (AP) — The Greek liner Australis arrived in the Fiji Islands today with the mid-sections of four decks burned out after an eight-hour blaze. The Australis is the former liner America.

Fire broke out aboard the 35,000-ton Chandris Line ship Thursday, 550 miles south of Suva en route to Southampton, England, from Australia and New Zealand.

None of the 2,130 passengers was injured in the fire which, a Chandris Line spokesman said, is believed to have started in the galley.

RESUE 23 CREW MEMBERS "It was hell," said the tanker's Dutch pilot, Capt. Jan Fruddiger, at a Royal Navy hospital where he was taken with the 23 rescued crew members, most of them Chinese.

NIXON CONCILIATORY

Unity Facade Covers Shaky UN

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — With an outward facade of unity that barely covers the disension and frustration within, the United Nations ended its 25th anniversary celebrations today. The closing ceremonies of the 10-day special session of the 127-country General Assembly came a day after President Nixon delivered a conciliatory speech in which he called for "peaceful competition" between the U.S. and the Soviet Union to promote world peace and progress.

The key passage in the speech, one of the most substantive delivered during a commemorative session marked by discord over the Middle East and southern Africa, said:

"In the world today we are at a crossroads. We can follow the old way, playing the traditional game of international relations, but at ever-increasing risk. Everyone will lose and no one will gain. Or we can take a road—to join in a peaceful competition, not in the accumulation of arms but in the dissemination of progress; not in the building of missiles but in waging a winning war against hunger and disease and human misery in our own countries and around the globe."

He called on the Soviet Union to join the U.S. in avoiding war in the Middle East and in developing a climate in which nations of the troubled area will learn to "live and let live."

He urged continuation of the Middle East ceasefire and the creation of confidence in which peace efforts can go forward.

B.C. FLQ Ruling Hard To Effect

Representatives of School District 23 (Kelowna) and the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association are agreed Thursday's order - in - council requiring schools and universities to fire teachers who support the Front de Liberation du Quebec (FLQ) or the overthrow of elected governments by violent means would be difficult to apply.

Fred Macklin, secretary-treasurer of School District 23, said Thursday teachers, by nature, tended to be more cautious in dealing with sensitive matters than most people.

"Teachers have a captive audience in the classroom, and therefore are more cautious," he said.

"In addition, teachers have to meet groups of children every day and carry on intelligent conversations with them."

"I don't think there will be any trouble, and I believe the government's proclamation will be treated with caution."

Russia Quiet On Generals Who Strayed

MOSCOW (Reuter) — Russia carefully refrained from making a major issue today of the unexpected landing in Soviet Armenia of two American generals.

In contrast to the acid tone of propaganda Moscow and Washington have directed at each other in recent weeks, both sides seemed keen to play down the latest incident.

U.S. and Turkish diplomats here were still waiting today for permission for consular officials to see the four men aboard the U.S. plane which landed Wednesday in the Soviet border town of Leninakan, instead of its intended destination of Kars in Turkey.

NANAIMO (CP) — Police set up roadblocks in their search for two men following the shooting death of a man early today in the Yellow Point district of Cedar, just south of Nanaimo. Police says the unidentified man, about 32, was felled by a blast from a shotgun on a boat dock.

KELOWNA COMMENTS

B.C. FLQ Ruling Hard To Effect

Kelly Slater, president of the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association, said he was not interested in supporting the FLQ, adding he was not in support of any witch hunt either.

"I don't want academic freedom in the classrooms subjected because of a witch hunt. The War Measures Act can be easily misused by narrow-minded people."

"I know of no one on the school boards with which I have been associated who would have that kind of mentality," he said.

Mr. Slater added it would be difficult to comment on the act unless he had read it.

COAST DECISION

VANCOUVER (CP) — The president of the British Columbia School Trustees Association said Friday school boards will follow the provincial government's order to fire all teachers who support the FLQ or the overthrow of elected governments by violent means.

Peter Powell said, however, that the school trustees are "responsible people and they will take this order-in-council in the spirit in which it is written, and that there will be no abuse of it and that the spirit of it will be carried out."

"If you are worried about it becoming a punitive weapon, I am not."

Police '80 Per Cent Sure' That They've Got Right Man

MONTREAL (CP) — Police today reported the arrest of a man they believe is one of five persons believed to be connected with the political kidnappings of a British envoy and a Quebec cabinet minister.

A spokesman for the Quebec Provincial Police in Montreal said police are 80 per cent certain that the arrested man is Bernard Lortie, a student for whom a warrant was issued Friday night.

"The remaining 20 per cent concerns his date of birth—the date and month are not the same as those we had on the warrant," said the spokesman.

The arrested man answered to the name of Bernard Lortie and carried identification bearing that name, police said.

The warrant issued by QPP said Bernard Lortie, born Aug. 3, 1951, was wanted for conspiracy in the kidnapping of Pierre Laporte, Quebec labor minister, whose strangled body was found in an abandoned car at St. Hubert airport early last Sunday.

A note purportedly from a cell of the terrorist Front de Liberation du Quebec said the Dieppe cell was responsible for the slaying.

There were divergent reports about the arrest of Lortie. The QPP in Montreal said reports reaching them from their Hull detachment said the arrest had been made in Hull. The man then was transferred to Montreal for identification and questioning.

In Ottawa, a city police spokesman said Lortie had been arrested in an apartment on Wilbrod Street in the capital's Sandy Hill district. The spokesman said that, acting on information supplied by the QPP, Ottawa police had participated in the arrest.

But a couple living in the rooming house near the University of Ottawa said that while the student taken away by police was named Bernard Lortie, he bore no resemblance to the pictures carried in newspapers today of the Bernard Lortie wanted for conspiracy in the kidnapping of Pierre Laporte.

Zond VIII Returns

MOSCOW (Reuter) — The Soviet unmanned Zond VIII space shot today orbited the moon, and is on its way back to earth, Tass news agency said.

The craft was launched four days ago. Tass said it had carried out a scientific study of near-moon space and photographed the lunar surface.

The Zond craft appeared to have completed successfully the program announced after it was launched. An earlier Tass announcement said it was scheduled to return to earth Oct. 27.

The last Russian moonshot was in September when Luna 16 became the first-ever unmanned craft to take off from the moon successfully and return to earth bearing automatically retrieved moon rock samples.

Tass said today the Zond VIII also photographed the earth and transmitted television pictures back to base.

SPY SOUGHT

International news papermen were hunting for Jennifer Miles, above, in the Johannesburg area of South Africa today. The blonde, who has been accused in a Washington spy plot, went into hiding under government protection. Reports, most of which are sketchy and not confirmed, say she was believed to have been spying for Cuba. Other rumors say she is connected with Canadian terrorists.

Ottawa Might Advance Phosphate Ban Deadline

Energy Minister J. J. Greene said in the Commons Friday that the government is considering advancing the Jan. 1, 1972, deadline for banning the use of phosphates in detergents. Mr. Greene said when the deadline was first announced that scientists complained that it was unrealistic, but already there were advertisements for some brands of detergents saying all phosphates have been removed.

Distaste for the state of society is a major factor in recent criticism of the credibility of the news media. Knowlton Nash, director of information programs for the CBC, said Friday. Speaking to the United Nations silver anniversary conference in Toronto, he said that although it is proper to have outside evaluation of the media, "it is dangerously misleading to condemn the media for reporting facts which you don't like."

The Vancouver Island Dairy-men's Association has asked Nanaimo Mayor Frank Ney to discuss the movement of fluid milk on to the island while surplus exists in the city. The association said surpluses exist on the island from April until early July, while the balance of the year, local producers can meet the needs. Mr. Ney promised to present the association's case to Agriculture Minister Cyril Sheppard before the next sitting of the legislature.

Attorney-General Leslie Peterson says in Victoria he will meet with the executive of the Vancouver and British Columbia Traffic and Safety Councils next Thursday to discuss the future of the Vancouver group. Mr. Peterson agreed to the meeting after the Vancouver council announced it would close if it didn't get financial assistance.

Clive McKee, the government-appointed mediator in a 15-week strike of aluminum workers in Kitimat, said Friday that "a basis of understanding has been arrived at" in contract negotiations.

A charge of non-capital murder was withdrawn Thursday against Margaret Ovington, 30, of 100 Mile House. She is charged with manslaughter in the shooting death of Melvin Frank Duhamel, 36, Sept. 18. Mrs. Ovington was released on $2,500 bail and Nov. 30 was set for a preliminary hearing.

Dr. D. G. Chapman, director of the federal food advisory bureau, Ottawa, says a report from the United States that rats died on a diet of enriched bread left one thing out: Virtually no one subsists entirely on bread. Dr. Roger J. Williams, a University of Texas nutrition expert, was reported Thursday to have starved to death 40 of 64 rats by feeding them only commercial brands of enriched bread.

The cataclysmic violence of a collapsed star may challenge fundamental laws of the physical world, a group of British scientists reported Friday in London. The scientists, led by Drs. J. S. Allen and Geoffrey Edean of Oxford University's department of engineering science have concluded that electromagnetic fields in the turbulent Crab Nebula are travelling at about 372,000 miles a second, or twice the speed of light. The scientists' report, published in the magazine Nature, could rebut the calculations of Albert Einstein, who wrote in 1905 that no particle can ever exceed the speed of light—186,000 miles a second.

A South Korean trade mission says in Toronto it has received tremendous response from Canadian businessmen during a five-city campaign to drum up a larger export market for manufactured goods. H. Chul Moon, counsellor at the Korean embassy in Ottawa, says the mission is by private businessmen under the auspices of the Korean Trade Association.

Prime Minister Trudeau said Friday Canada firmly supports the goals of the United Nations although "over the past 25 years, disillusionment and failure" have not been strangers to the organization. Mr. Trudeau made the statement in Ottawa to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the UN, celebrated Friday.

A research assistant for the New Democratic Party was removed from the Ontario legislature gallery Friday and questioned under the little-known Public Works Protection Act after she refused a police request to sit up straight. Provincial police Cpl. James Bradley said Elizabeth Marchand "just wasn't conforming to the Speaker's rules." Marion Bryden, the NDP research director, said "police asked her to sit up," and when she asked what authority they had she was taken into custody.

Dr. Michael Oliver, vice-principal of McGill University, has approved the continued use by the university of a controversial book by Pierre Vallieres, an admitted member of the Front de Liberation du Quebec. Dr. Oliver gave the French-Canadian studies department permission to use Les Negres Blancs d'Amerique, despite the invoking of the War Measures Act last week. He said nothing in the act "prohibits the use of any book, poem, film or document for classroom analysis" and there is nothing wrong with "the objective examination and analysis of statements by the FLQ or any other group within the context of a university course."

The British Parliament, its ancient calm shattered by two riot gas bombs last session, hired its own private eye Friday to shore up security. A retired Scotland Yard detective, 62-year-old William Frank Gilbert, will take over the responsibility for safety in all of the Palace of Westminster, a 500-room Gothic conglomerate with lurking space for scores of troublemakers. The appointment came just before Guy Fawkes Day, which commemorates the failure to blow up the Mother of Parliaments on opening day, Nov. 5, 1605.

A Dublin court acquitted all four defendants in an Irish arms conspiracy trial, including a former finance minister. They had pleaded not guilty to charges of illegally conspiring to import arms into the republic. The prosecution alleged that the weapons were destined for troubled Northern Ireland. A cheering crowd mobbed the courthouse as former finance minister Charles Haughey, 46, and the three others walked from the building after the verdict.

Quebec Creditiste Leader Camille Samson said Friday the leaders of the province's three major labor unions imposed their will on their members when they jointly called for withdrawal of the War Measures Act Wednesday. The Quebec Teachers' Federation, the Confederation of National Trade Unions and the Quebec Federation of Labor acted without receiving a mandate to speak for their members, he said in a statement.

Prime Minister Edward Heath made it clear Friday night that Britain has not yet reached a decision on resuming arms sales to South Africa. In a television interview from the United Nations, Heath said the question would have to be discussed in the cabinet before a decision was made.

Thomas Edward Shi, 25, of Anahim Lake, was remanded Friday in Quebec to Oct. 30 on a charge of attempted murder. His appearance in provincial court here followed an incident in a Chilcotin-area ranch in which Vivian Alexis, 17, of Anahim Lake suffered internal injuries.

The Front d'Action Politique, a group running 31 candidates in the Montreal municipal election Sunday, initiated a $3,600,000 damage action Friday against Mayor Jean Drapeau for statements allegedly harmful to the organization and its candidates. The lawsuit claims $500,000 damages to it as an organization and $100,000 each for damages to its candidates. Copies of the documents concerned were delivered to the media with a letter declaring that the FRAP organization and its defendant members "categorically denied with the greatest vigor" the alleged statements of Mayor Drapeau.

SEEKS RE-ELECTION
NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A decision to seek re-election as mayor of New Westminster was announced Friday by Jun Evers, elected to his first term two years ago. Voting day is Dec. 12.

MAKE GETAWAY
BURNABY (CP)—A Pacific Finance Co. office on East Hastings was robbed of 125 Friday by two men, one of whom was armed with a revolver. They fled the scene on foot.

SET FIRE
NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Charged with arson, Leslie James Epton, 27, was sentenced Friday to four years in penitentiary. Police said the charge was laid after the Coquitlam man set fire to a neighbor's house.

HANDS OFF
VANCOUVER (CP)—Ottawa has "no contemplation" of financing civic rapid-transit systems, says Public Works Minister Arthur Laing. Mr. Laing was commenting in an interview Friday to a B.C. government proposal that it and the federal government each pay 37½ per cent of the estimated $300 million bill for a greater Vancouver rapid transit system.

DECISION DELAYED
VANCOUVER (CP)—A spokesman for the B.C. mediation commission said Friday there will be no decision until next week on a re-examination of a "binding" decision involving 900 Teamsters Union members employed by the Lafarge, Metro and Ocean Cement companies. The decision called for a 75-cents-hourly increase over two years.

OLYMPICS BID
VANCOUVER (CP)—Arthur Laing, federal public works minister, says facilities in the Whistler Mountain area should be improved so that another bid can be submitted for the Winter Olympic Games. Mr. Laing said in an interview Friday that this could be done with some of the $20 million "saved" when the Vancouver-Garibaldi Olympic committees lost out in a bid for the 1976 winter games.

CLEAR AIR
VICTORIA (CP)—Resources Minister Ray Williston says a pulp mill air pollution control device, which he inspected last week in New Westminster, "really works." He said, however, it was not yet known whether the device tested at the Scott Paper Ltd. plant was better than those already in use in B.C. mills.

SCREWDRIIVER USED
VANCOUVER (CP)—Donald Angus King, 29, has been charged with wounding and possession of an offensive weapon—a screwdriver—after an attack on a 40-year-old woman. Victim of the attack was identified as Dawn Mondgrain, of the same address as King.

Grenadier Guards In Action -This Time Fighting Garbage

ONDON (AP)—The Grenadier Guards, a spit-and-polish regiment normally assigned to glittering ceremonial duties at Buckingham Palace, got a new job today: hauling piled-up garbage out of the streets of London.

It was the first time soldiers had been used in a labor dispute in London since troops delivered mail in a postal strike in 1955.

Twenty of the guards and about a dozen Royal Engineers arrived with bulldozers at 2 a.m. in the Tower Hamlets district, where trash from the Petticoat Lane market district had lain uncollected since sanitation men went on strike almost a month ago.

Striking trash collectors carrying picket signs watched as the soldiers began removing the 10-foot piles of garbage and loading it into trucks. A dozen policemen were at the scene, but the pickets made no attempt to interfere with the work.

Residents of the area got out of bed and went to watch the operation. There were cries of "Thank God" as it began.

A pretty, dark-haired girl from a nearby apartment block kissed one of the combat-clad soldiers on the cheek as a special thank-you gesture. During brief rest breaks, the soldiers chatted about their job. Few grumbles were heard.

The defence ministry issued a statement saying the troops were deployed at the request of Home Secretary Reginald Maudling.

"The men will only move rubbish which has been declared a health hazard," a spokesman said.

John Cousins, a leader of the striking Transport and General Workers Union, said: "We did not raise objections to the use of troops because of the danger of health in the East End."

Some 70,000 municipal workers are on strike across Britain, seeking a raise equivalent to $6.80 a week on basic pay scales that range from $33 to 42.

The sanitation men walked off their jobs Sept. 29. Garbage and trash are piled on sidewalks in most parts of London, and sewage pumping stations are in danger of overflowing.

Security Men And Supervisors Keep Alberta Schools Guarded

EDMONTON (CP)—Security guards and supervisory personnel were at more than 150 public schools today protecting them against vandalism and keeping their heating systems functioning.

The schools were closed when 1,100 caretakers and maintenance workers, members of the local 474 branch of the Canadian Union of Public Employees, called a strike Thursday afternoon.

It was the first time public schools in Edmonton had been closed since 1921 when teachers called a strike. Separate schools are not affected.

The walkout left 76,900 students without classes but 3,800 teachers stayed on the job to take part in workshops and in-service sessions.

Special crews were sent in Friday to clean up some schools which were littered by students supporting the strikers. Students at some schools joined the picket lines.

School board Canadian Vernon Johnson said the schools will be re-opened, one-by-one, as fast as alternate caretakers and maintenance workers could be found. He could not predict when the first school would open.

TALKS STOP

Mediation talks, which broke off Thursday, were not expected to resume until after the weekend.

The union is protesting what it says is a board proposal to freeze the salaries of 300 maintenance workers.

tenance workers at last July's level. A spokesman said their average hourly wage is $4 but many of them are classified as construction tradesmen and are earning less than their counterparts working outside the public school system.

The school board has denied it is trying to freeze the wages. CUPE also is asking for a 35-cent-an-hour increase for 800 caretakers. Female caretakers now earn $1.65 an hour and the starting wage for a male caretaker is $2.25.

The union demands for the caretakers represent about a 21-per-cent increase over two years. The board has offered an increase of 9.4 per cent for 1970 and eight per cent for 1971.

Both sides have agreed on an increase in the salaries of women caretakers to $2 an hour.

MAYORS, REALTORS AT CIVIC NIGHT

Local real estate men entertained civic leaders Friday at a dinner and dance in the Rutland Centennial Hall. Posing at the civic night from left are chairman, R. G. Lennie, dinner speaker, Nanaimo Mayor and MLA Frank Ney, Mayor Hilbert Roth and Alan Patterson, president, Kelowna Division, Okanagan Mainline Real Estate Board. More than 250 persons attended the affair. (Courier photo)

Downtown Residences Termed Not Practical

The downtown core of Kelowna cannot be kept alive by allowing people to live in dying buildings. City planner Greg Stevens says this was the sentiment behind council's rejection of a plan to convert vacant downtown second-floor offices into apartments.

Although downtown residential development plans aim at putting people in town all the time—adding to downtown awareness—the buildings recently proposed for this use are not suitable, Mr. Stevens said.

He added the only beneficial way to promote downtown residential areas was in "purpose designed buildings" and cited as an example the Mosaic Building with business offices in the front and apartments in the rear.

"The introduction of accommodation not of a high quality such as would be found in a purpose designed building would not necessarily contribute to downtown awareness, but could be a retrograde step and add to present problems in the downtown," Mr. Stevens said.

The conversion program was advocated by R. W. Lupton of Lupton Agencies, who suggested residential development would utilize second-floor space now standing idle because of a surplus in the city of ground floor office space.

He said the surplus had created a "severe and even alarming" rate of vacancy in the central business core.

"The limited use for this space now allowed by present zoning is working against one of the prime concerns of our central business district property owners... that of keeping the central core alive and a vital part of our local economy," Mr. Lupton said.

He said the demand for downtown accommodation is strong and certain controls could be kept on the type of conversions undertaken.

Mr. Stevens said, however, the high cost of the conversions, permissibility under the city and provincial codes, could prove so costly the buildings would have to remain residential even if a demand existed again for office space.

Adult Classes Resume

Next week's night school program in the continuing adult education and recreation series will feature a five-session course in liquid embroidery. Held at Kelowna Secondary School at 7:30 p.m., the course is under the instruction of Betty Holitzky.

Beginners' art classes and a one-session course in property subdividing will be held Tuesday. An afternoon art class will be available from 1 to 3 p.m. in the Ogopogo Room of the arena, while an evening session will be held at Kelowna Secondary School at 7:30 p.m. The arena school in land subdividing will also be held at the school at 7:30 p.m.

Edith Hillier will again instruct a four-session personal hair styling course Wednesday at the school, with two intermediate art classes at the Ogopogo Room at 1 p.m. and Kelowna Secondary School at 7:30 p.m. under Marion Grigsby.

For fairway buffs, the rudiments of golf will be taught Nov. 2 by Irwin Taylor, assistant professional at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club. Six advance sessions will be available at Martin Elementary School from 7 to 8 p.m. (and possibly 9 p.m.). Golf for beginners is scheduled Nov. 3 at the same location and times, with the course continuing Nov. 5 and 6.

Sewing with stretch fabrics will begin Nov. 3 at Kelowna Secondary School at 7:30 p.m. under Belva Rimbey. Further night school information can be obtained at the adult education office, 2-4891.

Great Times Awaiting B.C. But Who Pays Expenses?

Nanaimo's Mayor Frank Ney sees great times ahead for B.C., but he also sees escalating taxes.

Speaking Friday in Rutland at the civic night sponsored by the Kelowna division, Okanagan Mainline Real Estate Board, Mr. Ney, who also sits in the provincial house as an M.L.S., started his talk with what he calls his "sizzle" ideas. Then he branched off into a few serious items, like taxes.

In 10 years, Kelowna's welfare bill has gone from $28,000 to $284,000. School taxes have tripled.

It is a case, he said, of "the rich get richer, the poor get poorer and the middle class pays the whole shot."

He classes the construction industry as Canada's largest and said Kelowna had $12 million in building permits last year, which netted $306,000 to the city for taxes.

"We need more construction. Taxes will hit the roof if we don't realize this."

INTEGRAL PART

"The realtor plays an integral part in this," Mayor Ney held that in spite of everything going up, money being tight, that there are happy days ahead. "This is B.C.'s flood time."

He mentioned areas like the U.S. Atlantic seaboard crying for lumber and said vital markets for B.C. timber are available. The spillover from the Prairies will aid the economy of places like the Okanagan.

The future, he holds, is fantastic and the realtor is a vital force in the economy. People want to live in small towns, like his Nanaimo, and Kelowna, because of what they have to offer.

Mayor Ney preceded his address which he called Human Emotions, by making a presentation as the mayor of the bathtub capital of the world.

It was to two of four Kelowna boy scouts who entered this year's bathtub race.

TUB SANK

Jim Borden, Rand Upsdall, Doug Dean and Bert Deeter encountered numerous problems in getting to the race. Then their tub sank.

So, Borden and Upsdall were on hand Friday night to receive pennants and miniature bathtubs for their efforts.

Mayor Hilbert Roth received one of the famous bathtub straw hats, which are like those worn by Venetian gondoliers, before Mr. Ney started on the fun part of his talk.

Which was all about his secrets for sizzling. "Don't understate the power of advertising," he warned, along with admonitions to follow the golden rule and the ten commandments.

He advised realtors and their guests, who were all members of Kelowna's professional community, that they should always tell the truth. "So you can remember what you've said afterwards. Speak up; smile big; think big."

He said you lose 68 per cent of your business through indifference.

This was the second civic night presented by the Kelowna division, headed by Alan Patterson of Rutland. R.G. Lennie was chairman for the evening and among special out-of-town guests were George Salt, Enderby, chairman and president of the Okanagan Mainline Real Estate Board and Frank Oben, Salmon Arm, Yale representative on the Real Estate Council of B.C.

Purpose of civic nights are to exchange views with community leaders and professional groups.

Ottawa Still The Hold-up On West Side Development

Approval is awaited from Ottawa on a long-term lease on the development of a marina on the west side of Okanagan Lake, just south of the floating bridge.

Spokesmen for Carruthers and Melke Ltd., said approval of lease arrangements hinges on Ottawa, as the property is part of the Westbank Indian Reserve and approval must come from Jean Chretien, minister of northern development and Indian affairs.

Two leases have been negotiated with the Indians on behalf of the developers.

One lease, long-term, is for 20 years with another 20 year renewal option.

The second lease, short-term, is good for one year and has four yearly renewal options.

An Indian may sign a year-to-year lease, which does not require approval by the minister.

However, for any lease which is longer than one year, Ottawa's approval is required.

Approval in principle has been given to the long-term lease by the Vernon and Vancouver Indian affairs offices, spokesmen said, adding the only delay they could see was the "inter-departmental conflict between Indians and Indian affairs" over leases.

In addition to Vernon and Vancouver Indian affairs officials approving the project in principle, the Westbank band and council have supported the venture.

The marina is located off Campbell Road near the former Regatta water ski championship site.

Plans call for development in three stages, with completion in 1972.

Phase one involves the main marina building, a showroom, a service bay, offices, a public dock, gasoline and oil services and moorage.

Cost would be approximately $150,000.

The building would be a fabricated-steel structure.

Phase two, which could be begun next year, involves complete moorage, a large storage shed and a large rental facility.

The final phase involves completion of unfinished sections plus extensions of any facilities found to be too small.

Robert Heberton, formerly of Calgary, will be manager and his partners are former Calgaryans now living in Kelowna.

only delay they could see was

GOOD AVERAGE FOR CRIBbage

Veteran cribbage players have always been told that eight in the hands and six in the crib is a pretty good average.

So how would you like to average 15 a hand?

That's what a Kelowna man did Tuesday night and he started with a rare perfect hand. Wayne Bonner of 806 Patterson Ave., playing with his father-in-law, L. F. Roberts of R.R. 3, Spiers Road, completed the game averaging 15 points a hand, and needed only eight hands to go out.

But Mr. Roberts didn't give up easily.

A perfect crib hand consists of three fives and a jack, with the five matching the jack being cut.

SEEN and HEARD

Three members of the board of trustees of School District 23 (Kelowna) received 15-year long-service certificates from J. R. Nicholson, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, at special presentations at Victoria Oct. 11. C. E. Sladen, A. G. Follard and J. W. Maddock, were among 20 recipients awarded the citations during the opening session of the 66th annual meeting of the British Columbia School Trustees Association held at the Empress Hotel.

Mayor Frank Ney of Nanaimo and Hilbert Roth of Kelowna were seen in a serious discussion at the realtors' banquet Friday and they were heard talking about taxes, court fines and the FLQ.

The local branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is looking for a home for a female black terrier with three newborn puppies. The dogs can be viewed at pound facilities at Okanagan Zoo.

Department of veterans' affairs pensions advocate C. D. P. Myers, will be available for interviews by veterans at the Capitol from Nov. 12 to 14. Appointments regarding disabilities can be arranged at the local Royal Canadian Legion office. Applicants are asked to leave their names and regimental number before Nov. 3. W. A. Tyler, department of veterans' affairs service officer, will visit the legion Nov. 16 relative to applications for War Veterans Allowances applicants are asked to contact the Legion at 2-4117 for an appointment.

Frenchy Reichen won the Kelowna Yacht Club's weekly cribbage tournament and qualified for the final next spring. Jessie Carpenter, showing the way for increased female interest in the tournament, was second, with Darrol Tarves third. The 8:30 p.m. Thursday contests are open to members and guests.

Newspapers have always served as telephone information services and the variety of requests seems never ending. Calls come at any time, not just during business hours and two Friday night were typical. One caller wanted to know if it was worth driving north this week-end to see the "Adams River salmon run. The other wanted to know what was playing at a certain theatre, since she couldn't get any answer there. We can usually answer the questions and if we can't usually know who can and we're always glad to help, although we sometimes wonder if people think we never sleep.

INCORRECT

Incorrect information on a police press release of a report of an accident in Wednesday's Courier listed the name of William Pivniuk instead of John Pivniuk as one driver involved in the mishap.

NEW PLANT

Pacific Auto Plus Industries Ltd., will open a plant in Kelowna, at 1255 Ellis St., in mid-November. The firm will employ eight to 10 people. The fibreglass plant will utilize latest systems and machinery for fibreglass engineering, design and mould manufacturing.

RIGHT NAME

The driver of a vehicle contained in report of an accident in Friday's Courier was meant to read Ross Harder, not Rose Harder as published.

$500 DAMAGE

A single-car accident on Valley Road Friday at 8:30 p.m. resulted in about $500 damages and no injuries to George Houle of Rutland.

Shifts Hurt UN's Effort

The United Nations is celebrating its 25th anniversary today.

The United Nations Club, once a stronghold in Kelowna, disbanded three years ago.

Since then activities marking the birth of the organization have become less predominant.

Last year in Kelowna, a number of schools observed UN day.

This year few schools will, and part of the reason is the shift schedule in a number of schools.

Of the six secondary schools in School District 23 (Kelowna), four are operating on shift schedules.

As a result of cutbacks in extra-curricular activities, United Nations clubs within the schools have virtually curtailed activities.

Experts Trade Festival Ideas

The man who manages the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, Max Colwell, had one piece of advice at the kick-off luncheon of the Pacific Northwest Festival Association convention Friday.

"Don't be casual about your mail," he told about 70 local and out-of-town delegates attending the first time in Canada event sponsored by the Kelowna International Regatta Association. He was introduced to the gathering by head table guest H. G. Wells of Yakima, Wash., president of the festival association, as "one of the better informed festival men in the entire nation."

Relating some prides and problems of the job he has held since 1952, Mr. Colwell dug back into the history of the world-renowned Pasadena classic, now managed by an association membership of 1,400, which devotes about 50,000 man-hours annually to "put the show on the road."

He added the Tournament of Roses parade, which last year grossed $2,600,000 from television rights and various other sources, began as a simple picnic in the park in 1890 on New Year's Day when someone decided to decorate attending "buggies" with flowers. The novel idea was picked up by a reporter from the local newspaper and received wide publicity in Chicago and New York. Built around a collegiate football team the classic, said Mr. Colwell, now has a television audience of 98,000,000 viewers and is the object of "hundreds" of films, distributed around the world. He described his job as both "challenging and glamorous" with its attending share of "headaches."

Thanking the guest speaker, master of ceremonies Howard MacIntosh, Kelowna Regatta director-general, described the address as a "most informative and interesting talk" and said he had noted "six major points" of value to the Regatta association.

One highlight of the 12:30 p.m. luncheon was presentation of commemorative city spoons by Lady of the Lake Heather Martin to Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Colwell as a gesture of welcome from the city and the Regatta association. Presentations of "little Ogies" and "Ogopogos" in a bathtub were also made to Mr. Wells and Mr. Colwell by Mr. MacIntosh and Glenn Lawrence, Regatta deputy director-general and director of water events.

'Mixed Bag' Sparks Thought As Herb Capozzi Speaks

Herb Capozzi, MLA for Vancouver Centre, mixed football, humor, politics and candor in a sparkling blend of thought-provoking rhetoric to top-off the first day session of the Pacific Northwest Festival Association convention at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club Friday.

Accompanied by daughter Paula at the head table, Mr. Capozzi told some 70 local and visiting festival delegates attending an evening banquet that the "great" province of British Columbia "gives us a chance to boast with pride whenever we have American visitors."

Acknowledging his mostly Washington State audience, the guest speaker said the province's 750,000 square mile area was "one and a half times the size of Texas" and was "one of three fastest growing areas in North America." He referred to the recent problems in Quebec as having made Canadians "tremendously aware that the thing that was not supposed to happen has happened."

He added Canadians who formerly "looked down" at their American neighbors "suddenly find it can happen here."

Riots in Vancouver and Cambridge

pus unrest were precipitating "more concern" and politicians were beginning to ask "why is it happening" and coming up with "all sorts of reasons" such as lack of parental discipline and faulty school systems. Similar problems in Canada and the United States, Mr. Capozzi said, are providing a "joint community strength that stretches across North America." Drawing a simile with football, a sport he was associated with for 10 years, he said just as the game was an "important activity of the community which binds people together," the same principle applies to festivals.

Mr. Capozzi suggested it was "not just enough" to take festivals to that stage, and that "rock festivals" were "outdrawing every festival your organization has." He said festivals had to "pull together" or run the risk of having an "interest and understanding gap."

Drawing another parallel with sports, Mr. Capozzi told listeners that just as Roger Bannister broke the four-minute mile by visualizing the feat as a series of "1700-yard dashes" so would all endeavors be conquered through "community activity and concern" and with "people with ability and capacity."

Cadets Walk For History

Forty Kelowna air cadets will participate in a 20-mile walk-athon Sunday to raise funds for a proposed hall of Canadian aviation history and chapel at Trenton, Ont.

Members of 243 Ogopogo Squadron, Royal Canadian Air Cadets, are seeking sponsors for the hike, which will follow a circle route to the airport and back.

Capt. J. D. Bridges said cadets will be dispatched in groups of five or six under a senior cadet and five checkpoints will be established along the route. Walkers will be under the surveillance of auto patrols.

The walk begins at 8 a.m. from the Kelowna Armories.

$750 DAMAGE

About $750 damages were incurred in a two-car accident at Bernard Avenue and Water Street Friday involving drivers Earl Raymond Speer of Rutland, and Douglas J. McIntosh of Kelowna, who were not injured in the mishap at 1:22 a.m.

NO EMERGENCIES

No fires or accident calls were reported by the Kelowna Fire Brigade Friday, and only six pre-arranged ambulance calls were handled by the brigade's emergency force.

FOR ENTERTAINMENT AND ENJOYMENT

Music is enjoyable and relaxing, and these students, members of the senior Kelowna Secondary School music class, enjoy performing. Ray Friesen, the school's music director, says 50 to 60 students study music in the school and attend band rehearsals. Students learn to master such instruments as the trombone, saxophone, tuba, flute and horn. To add more fullness to the bass section, Mr. Friesen has added a string bass. However, such stringed instruments as violins and violas will not be used in the school's music program for some time to come, he added. (Courier photo)

Union Of Two Churches Supported By Majority

TORONTO (CP) — Union of the Anglican Church of Canada and the United Church of Canada is favored by a majority of members of both denominations, an unofficial survey shows.

But The Observer, organ of the United Church, says: "The concerns of a sizable proportion of Anglicans who have expressed a reluctance could postpone an early marriage."

Ninety-one per cent of United Church members and 61 per cent of Anglicans who replied to a questionnaire published in The Observer and in The Canadian Churchman, the Anglican newspaper, said they would accept church union.

Results of the poll were announced today at a news conference at which it was emphasized that the countrywide survey was unofficial and not authorized by officials working toward church union.

The Observer received 4,838 replies. The Canadian Churchman 3,172. Membership of the Anglican Church as listed in the Canadian Almanac, based upon the 1961 census, is 2,409,000; that of the United Church, 3,094,000.

The United Church was formed in 1925 of the Methodist Church, the Congregational Church and part of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Negotiations for union of the United Church and the Anglican Church have been under way for nearly 30 years. The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), a participant in the negotiations, did not take part in the poll.

Progress in negotiations has been slow. The General Commission on Union, meeting in Halifax in April, 1969, sent back to committee for further study a report on the proposed structure and constitution of a single church.

The poll, described as the first test of lay opinion in either church, showed:

—Fifty-one per cent of the United Church and 29 per cent of the Anglicans are eager for union.

—Six per cent of the United Church membership and 31 per cent of the Anglicans threaten to leave the church rather than amalgamate.

—United Church clergy lag behind the laity in their enthusiasm for union. Anglican clergy are less in favor of union than most of their people, but more in favor than young Anglicans.

—Two-thirds of United Church people age 30 and under were seen as eager for union but 45 per cent of Anglicans 30 and under said they would leave the church first.

The Observer story on the poll, to be published in its November issue, says:

"If the results are representative, church union could cost the Anglicans 30 per cent of their members, more than a third of their clergy and nearly half of their young people.

"Since people who take the trouble to answer questionnaires tend to be those with strong opinions, however, it's possible that anti-union Anglicans are over-represented in the poll and that their proportion in the whole church is not so high. And some who threaten now to leave the church may not carry out their threat when the time comes.

"But the poll does indicate there is a sizable anti-union sentiment in the Anglican Church, that it is far stronger than the anti-union sentiment in the United Church and that the General Commission on Church Union still has a big educational job to do among a good many church people.

"In both denominations, the returns revealed misinformation, myth, prejudice and self-righteousness," Craig, United Church executive commissioner for church union, said he was satisfied with the results of the poll. That 61 per cent of Anglicans now would accept union was "encouraging."

Canon Ralph Latimer, the Anglican co-commissioner, termed the results of "questionable value" because the response was limited and the extent to which it might be biased was not known.

Witnesses To Gather In Penticton

More than a thousand Jehovah's witnesses are preparing for an intensive weekend of instruction in Bible subjects next month.

It will be the second major event for the Witnesses in two weeks to be held in Penticton. On Oct. 31 a special meeting will be held in the Penticton Secondary School auditorium.

Local overseer of the Witnesses in this area, O. Fossen said, "There are many persons who feel that the Bible is too old-fashioned and full of myths and meaningless history. But Jehovah's witnesses have on the basis of their continuing confidence that the Bible is the word of a living God and represents the best instruction for people. In fact, it is more meaningful today than at any other time in history.

"While scientific knowledge increases year by year with the resultant rapid outdating of instructive textbooks, there have been no strides made in the field of learning to live in harmony with God and one's fellow man. There is yet to be found a better textbook on human relationships than the Bible. The fact that many do not take its counsel seriously serves only to emphasize their foolish course which results in the serious problem of escalating lawlessness world-wide.

"This convention, which will be held Nov. 13 to 15 in the Penticton Peach Bowl is designed to serve as a reminder to anyone interested in the scriptures that the Bible is a 'Living Word' full of wisdom and practical counsel for everyone," concluded Mr. Fossen.

Jehovah's witnesses in the local area have extended an invitation to anyone interested to attend anytime during the free three-day assembly.

Women Could Become Priests, Says Anglican Bishop Of N.S.

HALIFAX (CP) — Rt. Rev. W. W. Davis, Anglican bishop of Nova Scotia, said Tuesday the issue of allowing women to become full priests and bishops in the church is under study and a report is expected at the general synod in Niagara Falls, Ont., in January.

Bishop Davis was commenting on an announcement by the American Episcopal Church, a part of the Anglican communion, to allow women to become deacons.

He said the action was similar to measures taken last year by the Canadian church following a resolutions passed at a meeting of world bishops at Lambeth, Eng., in 1968.

Nova Scotia has one female deacon.

Regarding the more radical move of granting full ordination, Bishop Davis said the Lambeth conference recommended that any national church of the Anglican communion should study and report before taking any action.

"It was felt that it would be wise if the communion moved gradually and together... to have some unanimity of action seemed to be the purpose behind this," he said.

CHURCHMAN AGREES

The Canadian Churchman's story, to be published Monday, is similar to The Observer's with the same conclusions. Its circulation is about 247,000; that of The Observer is about 300,000.

At the news conference, both Canon Latimer and Mr. Craig were critical of the questionnaire's timing. They termed it premature as no conclusions yet have been reached by the general commission on which the memberships of the three involved denominations, or even their governing bodies, can base a decision.

Canon Latimer said: "Furthermore, the replies to the questionnaire represent only two-fifths of one per cent of our membership. You cannot reach any conclusion on that."

The general commission is to meet in Toronto Nov. 27-Dec. 2 to consider progress in negotiations to date. No decision will be made at that meeting on a recommendation and none is expected before 1972. At that time, Mr. Craig said, it is hoped that a draft proposal for organic union of the three denominations will be ready for submission to the church dioceses and presbyteries. It then will be submitted to church memberships at large for a vote.

KELOWNA MEET FOR LUTHERANS

The first Lutheran Reformation Rally and Service in the B.C. Interior will be held in the Kelowna Community Theatre, Sunday, Oct. 25 at 3 p.m.

The rally and service is sponsored by the congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Canada in the B.C. Interior.

The reformation message will be delivered by Rev. F. S. Schole of Leduc, Alta.

Pope Raps Violence

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul condemned Wednesday terrorism, skyjacking, kidnapping, armed robbery, traffic in drugs and "cruel and inhuman police methods."

The pontiff deplored police torture used to extract confessions in what he termed "a great country... undergoing the stresses and strains of economic and social development."

Vatican observers interpreted this remark as referring to Brazil.

Addressing a crowd of thousands at his weekly general audience in St. Peter's Basilica, the Pope lashed out against "the so-called theology of revolution."

He also assailed "violence and terrorism employed as a normal means for the overthrow of the established order."

The Pope devoted most of his speech to abuses by vested authorities on one hand and terrorist attempts to overthrow authority on the other hand.

"Cases of torture," he said, "are spoken of as a widespread epidemic in many parts of the world."

IN PERSON MARCY & LITTLE MARCY

It is safe to say that no other recording artist has a greater insight in, or respect for, a children's listening audience than does Little Marcy. Little Marcy's angelic, child-like voice establishes an immediate rapport with children. This fascinating and unusual ability to communicate with children has made Little Marcy recordings the religious favorite of families throughout the country.

In her concerts little ones listen in wide-eyed belief and faith to Marcy's happy little voice singing the teachings of Christ. Thus, a tiny doll's ministry of Sunday School songs, nursery rhymes, and Biblical stories becomes a wonderful influence. A program highlight is when Marcy and Little Marcy play their trombones.

Little Marcy's captivating voice is that of Marcy Tigner, a talented musician who has devoted much of her life to bringing Christian meaning into the lives of children. Marcy Tigner's radio programs (Marcy Tigner's Hymn Time and Sing With Marcy), recordings, and half hour television program have achieved world-wide acclaim with children and adults alike.

CELEBRATES 100TH ON SUNDAY

A gracious dignified little lady, Mrs. Margaret Isley, celebrates her 100th birthday on Sunday, with a quiet birthday party with the staff and other guests at the Still Waters Home on Sutherland Avenue. Mrs. Isley, born Margaret Magill on Oct. 25, 1870 in the District of Celbridge, County of Kildare, Ireland, came to Canada at an early age and came to Armstrong with her veterinarian husband, a number of years before he died in 1928. She continued to live most of her life at Armstrong where she is remembered as a gracious lady, who loved to entertain. Her dinner parties were a delight to attend and many younger women consulted her on matters pertaining to etiquette. She was an ardent bridge player and also enjoyed a good game of cribbage. A lifelong Presbyterian, she was also renowned for her fashionable appearance and even today the little centenarian presents an attractive appearance. She came to the Still Waters home in 1965 after a few years in Vernon. The only relative she has in this country is a half-sister,

Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson who makes her home on Bernard Avenue, Kelowna. Although hard of hearing she is still well orientated, and her hazel grey eyes light up with pleasure when asked about bridge. She explains that she cannot play any more, but she used to enjoy a good game. Here she chats a moment with Mrs. Adele Kornell-Burke on the right, who is the administrator and owner of the Still Waters residence and Mrs. Herta Cermak, on the left, director of nursing. —(Courier Photo)

Hospital Auxiliary Approves Purchase Of Cyrochill Unit

Dr. R. S. Smith demonstrated the need for a cyrochill surgical unit at the general October meeting of the Kelowna Hospital Auxiliary this week.

This unit freezes tissue and is used for removing cataracts and repairing retinal damage in the eyes. At the present time no such unit is available in the Okanagan and hundreds of eye operations are done in a year. The present method used has a much higher risk element and the new instrument would enable doctors to perform these operations with a greater degree of safety. The motion was passed that the auxiliary purchase the unit at a cost of approximately $2,400.

Mrs. Dorrance Bowers, convenor of the book and record sale held on Oct. 16 and 17 reported it was a success. Total gross profits were $1,124.75 and it was felt that this venture should be repeated next year. The memo calendars were ready for distribution and each member took her allotment to sell. Calendars will be available in the hospital gift shop and from any member at 50 cents each.

The Play's The Thing Is Topic Presented To University Women

The University Women's Club of Kelowna met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Selmer Arneson. The progress of preparations for the sponsorship of the Vernon Little Theatre play, Summertime, to be presented to the Kelowna public tonight, was discussed. Tickets for this topical play may be purchased at the Music Box on Ellis Street.

The meeting enjoyed an informative and very enjoyable address by James Brigham, professor of English at the Okanagan Regional College. His topic, entitled, 'The Play's The Thing, dealt with the use of the novel from the 15th century to the 20th century. The play or drama was extremely strong in England during Shakespeare's time in the late 1500's. Following Shakespeare's death in 1616, drama began losing strength and died in 1632, when the Puritans closed the theatres. At this time the novel began gaining strength and by the 18th century in England, the epistolary novel was very popular. In the 19th century the rise of the sentimental comedy saw the decline of the novel. The rise of one and the fall of the other go hand-in-hand throughout history until the late 19th century when both the novel and the play were strong in England. Presently, both are equal in Britain, but are generally not too strong. Post-war novelists generally produce period pieces which will very likely be weak in meaning to the future without knowledge of the social milieu, whereas pre-war novelists and dramatists were strong in their time and will be in the future. A lively discussion followed over coffee and dessert.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Smith left by car for their home in Prince Albert after enjoying an eight day visit with their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Smith and two young granddaughters of Orchard Drive. While here they were impressed with the beauty of the Valley and thrilled with the spectacular salmon run at Adams. They also toured the Osoyoos area and may return to spend a month there this winter.

Rev. Gerhard Krueger, missionary from Aachen, West Germany, currently on tour of Canada and the United States, visited briefly Friday with his brother and family, Robert Krueger of Kelowna. Rev. Krueger is a world wide traveller

A competitive weekend is in store for some of Helen Donnelly's Kelowna Hi-Steppers when they attend the National Baton Twirling Association's Miss Majorette on Sunday at Burnaby. Accompanying the girls are Mrs. Jonathan Miller and Mrs. Al Simon. Carol Simon is one of the contestants.

Australian Girl Shows Slides At Dr. W. J. Knox IODE Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter IODE was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Pettman, with 23 members present, and the Regent, Mrs. John Kropfmuller presiding.

Assistance for the home for disturbed children is to be considered.

Before the business meeting, a very interesting talk on Australia was enjoyed, given by Merridy Jamieson, an exchange student. Miss Jamieson's talk was accompanied with slides which gave an insight of the beautiful scenery and the history of that country.

A very interesting report was given by Mrs. D. J. Kerr, provincial vice-president, and also one from Mrs. F. N. Gisborne, who had attended the semi-annual meeting at Trail. Mrs. Kerr was asked to preside at one of the sessions, and also to place a wreath at the cenotaph.

Letters of appreciation were read from several who had attended the Regatta coffee party, and a letter of thanks from the swimming pool committee.

The national president, Mrs. George E. Tait, will be visiting British Columbia and the different zones. This is the first time a national president has travelled throughout the province meeting with the locals at the zone level and Kelowna members are looking forward to meeting her when she is entertained at Penticton during her visit to this area.

The conveners of the different committees all gave their reports, including the Superfluity shop which is doing very well; and also the Citizenship convener had attended the ceremony at the court house and gave out certificates to 12 new Canadians.

WISH GRANTED
PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Craighead W. McMurray, 25, was given 45 days in jail Tuesday for assaulting a police officer. Police said McMurray, apprehended for failing to pay a restaurant bill, asked one of the arresting officers if assaulting a policeman would allow him to spend the winter in jail. One of the policemen answered, "It probably would," and McMurray swung at him.

Next meeting of the Kelowna Hospital Auxiliary will be held Nov. 16 at 8 p.m. in the hospital lecture room. Anyone interested in the auxiliary is welcome to attend.

UC Presbyterian Executive Meet

The Kamloops Okanagan Presbyterian executive met in First United Church hall on Tuesday with 32 members from Valley points in attendance. Dr. E. E. Birdsell, presbytery officer, addressed the meeting giving an outline of his duties in the Kamloops-Okanagan-Kootenays Presbyteries.

A business meeting followed during which, Mrs. Birdsell and Mrs. I. Cummings of Naramata, members of the British Columbia Conference Board, gave a resume of the study book for the year, which is on Latin America.

Mrs. J. Kerr of Revelstoke and Mrs. C. H. Ehlers of Kamloops gave a report on the North-West conference held in Langley, B.C.

Refreshments were served during the day by the Kelowna members of the United Church Women.

THE GOODIE BAG

Mrs. Tony Walls, seated, admires the 100-year-old shawl Mrs. Harold Kunzli has brought out of her collection of goodies hoarded up for masquerades and centennial events. The two women are among many, who are busy thinking up ideas for the masquerade party on Oct. 31 sponsored by the Okanagan Mission Recreation Commission at the Okanagan Mission hall. The event promises to be a repeat of the first fun night sponsored by the OMRC last winter when oldtimers and newcomers got acquainted.

The evening includes dancing to the music of Al Bigattini, prizes for costumes, refreshments and lunch. Tickets are available to everyone interested in having a good time at Long Super Drugs, Yarn Barn, Southgate, Wall's new and used and Hall's IGA.

CONTRARY

A Real Swinger Really Swings

By MARY GREER

A real swinger. You often hear someone say, "He's a real swinger" or "she's a swinger." But imagine I met a REAL swinger the other day.

In a lovely new home out in the Okanagan Mission, lives a young couple who have used a flair for design and color, plus imagination in creating a new home and they have come up with what is a new idea to me.

It seems the young mother liked their swinging settee which hung in the patio and also the single basket wicker seat which hung in the family room, so well, that whenever she had time to relax, she chose one or the other to sit in. Her fondness for the swinging seats was so noticeable that one day when they were furnishing their new bedroom, the young husband jokingly said, "I suppose you'd like a swinging bed." She promptly took him seriously and so, he complied, by hanging the beds in the master bedroom from the open beam ceiling with four huge chains. The beams were reinforced with iron for support. "It really is a fabulous idea," she confides, "once you get used to the rockabye baby effect." Side benefits are—no indentations from the bed posts, in the carpeting and it's a breeze to vacuum under the bed.

You meet the nicest people in the grocery store. At least I did on my day off. Dashing off at the last minute, I forgot the most important accessory when I changed purses—the wallet. Didn't realize it until checking out a few groceries in a strange grocery store and when the cashier rang up the amount, I discovered to my horror—no money. Flustered and embarrassed, that "could have crawled in a hole" feeling was very evident when a kind hearted lady, came to my rescue and paid for my groceries. Not a complete stranger, but a lady who has met me briefly at a few social functions.

She could have thought, "Ho-hum, the dumb-dumb" and enjoyed my discomfort. But instead she chose to extend a friendly hand. All too often in this rush-rush world, no one has time to do a kindly act. Only last week, I agreed with an article I read about people, shoppers in particular, becoming more rude and discourteous, and then pow, this woman shows me there are still friendly people. All I can say is Watt Road must be a wonderful place to live.

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."—Emerson.

Kelowna Bridge Club's 8th Annual Birthday Party, Success

Director R. V. Thomas introduced the head table at the 8th birthday banquet at the Capri this past Wednesday, and included Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. Anne McClymont, Mrs. R. A. Jensen, Alan Reid, Mr. and Mrs. J. Les Real, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vannatter, Mr. and Mrs. E. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fredrickson and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Munslow.

Gordon Hepperle, president of the Summerland Bridge Club, proposed a toast to the Kelowna Bridge Club. Les Real, Kelowna Bridge Club president, welcomed all guests from sister clubs in the Okanagan Valley and remarked on the steady progress made by the clubs, extending a special note of thanks to the director and his creative committee and hostesses Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. R. A. Jensen. Mr. V. N. Andreev proposed a toast to the Kelowna club director, R. V. Thomas.

Next Wednesday the play will be the "Final Fall Series" Championships.

Double - Ring Ceremony In Evangel Tabernacle

Tall standards of mauve and white chrysanthemums and candles set the scene for the double-ring ceremony uniting in marriage Helene Judy Block and Lorne Trevor Heistad at Evangel Tabernacle recently.

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Block of Kelowna and Lorne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Heistad of Veteran, Alta.

Rev. E. O. Kurtz officiated at the early evening ceremony, and Sheila Carlson was organist. Candle lighters, Norma Erikson and Darlene Heistad, cousins of the groom, wore identical gowns of pale yellow chiffon over taffeta fashioned on empire lines with square necklines and short puff sleeves. They had matching yellow rosettes scattered throughout their curls.

At the commencement of the ceremony, Mrs. Aubrey Brooks sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Wedding Prayer". During the signing of the register David Sheppard sang "God Given Love".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a floor-length gown of white peau d'elephant featuring scoop neckline and long sheer sleeves gathered at the wrist and finished with a six-button cuff. The graceful train which fell from the empire waist was enhanced by sheer embroidered lace appliques which also accented the neckline, cuffs and skirt of her gown. Her tailored headpiece of peau d'elephant and lace held in place the long trailing veil which was edged in matching lace. She carried a cascade of large white chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

IDENTICAL GOWNS

Maid of honor, Patricia Block, and bridesmaids, Colleen Block and Barbara Byron, wore identical gowns of mauve chiffon over taffeta fashioned on empire lines with square neckline, long full sleeves and a softly gathered floor-length train which was held in place by a chiffon bow. Mauve flowers were arranged in their coiffures and they carried cascading bouquets of white, mauve-tipped chrysanthemums and salal trimmed with white silver sparkle.

The flower girl, Raylene Kirk, was dressed in a gown similar in fashion to that of the bridesmaids, and she carried a single large white, mauve-tipped 'mum nestled in salal leaves.

Ring bearer was Danny Kirk, nephew of the groom.

The best man was Conrad Heistad of Wetaskewin, Alta., and groomsmen were Rick Parkyn of Punnichy, Sask., and Eldon Thullen, of Veteran, Alberta.

Serving as ushers and escorts to the candle lighters were Mel Heistad of Veteran, and Eric Venn of Victoria.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a yellow brocade gown with silver accessories and a corsage of pink roses and carnations.

The bridegroom's mother, who assisted in receiving the guests, chose a gown of pale green brocade with white accessories. She also wore a corsage of pink roses and carnations.

FIRESIDE ROOM

The Fireside Room, where the reception was held, was decorated with mauve and white bells and streamers. The bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake beautifully decorated in white and mauve, flanked on each side with tall mauve tapered set in crystal holders.

Master of ceremonies was Aubrey Brooks of Kelowna. Toast to the bride was given by Gladwyn Byron of Calgary. The best man proposed the toast to the bride's attendants. Val Paulson of Calgary was in charge of the guest book.

Before leaving on a honeymoon to points South, the bride donned a rose-colored dress and coat ensemble which was designed and crocheted by her mother. Black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias completed the costume.

The newlyweds will reside at 1832 - 38th Street, S.E., Calgary. Out-of-town guests came from Yorkton, Wilcox, Assiniboia, Regina, Punnichy and Estevan, Sask.; Calgary, Veteran and Wetaskewin, Alta.; Victoria, Vancouver, Gibsons, Sechelt, White Rock, Coquitlam, Burnaby, Ladner, Vernon, Salmon Arm and Fauquier, B.C.

ANN LANDERS

Flower Talk Works Both Ways

Dear Ann Landers: Poor Rod Roz—seven months pregnant and no Mother's Day gift! I have a 10-month-old baby and I qualified for a gift—or at least a card—but I didn't get one either. Did it bother me? Not in the least! Mike is the greatest guy in the world, he just happens to be no good at this sort of thing.

I am always prepared on Mother's Day, birthday and anniversary with a big beautiful plant, which I order in advance. I don't put a card on it but it looks as if it came from Mike. I do this not for myself, but for him. I don't want him to be embarrassed about forgetting, in case family or friends come over—and they always do.

SOME OF BUCKS BOUND FOR ROYAL CITY

Royals Come From Behind To Down Kelowna 5-4

By LORNE WHITE
Courier Sports Editor
NEW WESTMINSTER — A powerplay goal by newly-acquired Gerry Vachon at 19:45 of the third period spoiled the Kelowna Buckaroos chance for their first point on a three-game road trip Friday and gave the New Westminster Royals a 5-4 win in New Westminster.

Vachon, two seasons ago, an all-star with the Vernon Essos of the British Columbia Junior Hockey League, and last season with the Lethbridge Sugar Kings of the Alberta Junior Hockey League, got the winner with Kelowna's Gerry Feist sitting out a hooking penalty. The well-deserved win was the Royals third of the season and second in succession. After a 1-2 drubbing of the Chilliwack Bruins Thursday, New Westminster outshot the Buckaroos 51-28. Kelowna started the scoring at 14:59 of the first period with defenceman Greg Fox performing a solo effort from the point going right in on goal unharmed and sliding the puck past a surprised Maurice l'Heureux in the New Westminster net. The Bucks were fortunate to get through the second period with a 3-2 lead, being outplayed and outshot 22-8. Craig Einfeld scored his second goal of the season early in the middle frame with a blistering shot from the point into the top left hand corner to give the visitors a 2-0 lead.

Two quick New Westminster goals, the first by former Vernon Esso Lawrence Quechuck who performed the hat trick and the second, a powerplay goal by Kevin Coates, tied the game at 2-2.

Doug Manchak, who had a five-point night in the Bucks 5-4 win Wednesday in Kelowna against the Penticton Broncos, put the Buckaroos into the lead at 13:09 picking up a loose puck from a face-off in the Royals' end and on a second effort put a high wrist shot over the outstretched glove of l'Heureux.

Goalender Murray Holzapfel in the Kelowna net was outstanding in keeping his club in contention. He was particularly brilliant on two occasions stopping Quechuck at point blank range and grabbing a low hard shot from Barry Bleakley at the point. Holzapfel continued to stymie the unrelenting Royal attack in the third period but gave up two goals to Quechuck, one on an almost impossible angle and the other on a screen shot from close in.

Newcomer to the Buckaroos, Brian Matlock, scored Kelowna's only goal at 9:01 of the third period. The Buckaroos continue their coastal division swing tonight when they take on the Victoria Cougars in Victoria and end their trip with a meeting against the Chilliwack Bruins Sunday.

First period: 1. Kelowna, Fox 14:59. Penalties: Feist (Kel) 14:59. Penalties: Feist (Kel) 5:44, Vachon (NW) 6:39, Keating (Kel) double minor and McCracken (NW) 12:05, Bleakley (NW) 13:51.

Second period: 2. Kelowna, Einfeld (Matlock, Patenaude) 5:01; 3. New Westminster, Quechuck (Jim Dolzell) 5:52; 4. New Westminster, Coates (Campbell) 7:07; 5. Kelowna, Manchak 13:09. Penalties: Fox (Kel) 8:03, Einfeld (Kel) 13:30, Gerlach (Kel) 16:70.

Third period: 6. New Westminster, Quechuck (Jim Dolzell, Vachon) 5:27; 7. Kelowna, Matlock (Andruss) 9:01; 8. New Westminster, Quechuck (Jim Dolzell) 10:30; 9. New Westminster, Vachon (McIlhenny, John Dolzell) 19:45. Penalties: Manchak (Kel) 0:26, Feist, (Kel) minor and misconduct 10:11.

Shots on goal by: Kelowna 8 6 8-22 New Westminster 10 20 1-46 Goals: Holzapfel, Kelowna; l'Heureux, New Westminster.

Moto Cross Makes Debut

A new and exciting sport for Kelowna and the Okanagan area gets under way at the Westbank Industrial Park at 1 p.m. Sunday.

The Summerland motorcycle club will sponsor a "moto cross" for the first time in the central Okanagan.

The 30-member club, formed in March, with Vic Blewett as president, expects entries for the three-fifths dirt course, to come from Grand Forks, Prince George, Kamloops, Barriere, and Vancouver, as well as the Okanagan centres.

Three classes will be represented, with three heats of 10 laps, in each class. The three classes are 125 cc, and under, 250 cc, and if there are enough entries, an open class.

Anyone can enter the competitions, which is also the third leg of a three-team challenge between Summerland, Kamloops and Barriere. Summerland took the first leg, while Kamloops capture the second.

Sudden Death Clash Looms

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Sunday's Eastern Football Conference game at Hamilton shapes up as a sudden death clash between two of the three clubs battling for the conference lead. The loser can forget about first place.

Toronto Argos hold a statistical edge in their two previous meetings with the Tiger-Cats this year, winning 29-3 and 33-14 and a wide margin in total offence—354 to 450.

Sabres Follow Punch's Words

By IAN MACLAINE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Punch Imlach's a firm believer in positive thinking. He practises it. Before the season started, the loquacious leader of Buffalo Sabres was already celebrating a playoff spot for his expansionist misfits in the National Hockey League's established East Division.

He rebuked those who were snide enough to remark that Imlach was probably talking through one of his celebrated fedoras.

The 11-year veteran of NHL coaching ranks with Toronto Maple Leafs, winner of four Stanley Cups, shot back with statistics, rolling out names of nearly 200 prospects, most of whom had been scouted by at least two Sabre scouts.

"We'll be there to be counted," remarked Imlach to any who would listen.

SHARE FOURTH

Seven games don't make a season, but the Sabres now share fourth place in the division with another newcomer to the NHL this year, Vancouver Canucks.

The Sabres and Canucks reached their lofty positions Friday night, Buffalo tripping Detroit Red Wings 4-3 while the Canucks battled St. Louis Blues, last year's West Division champs, to a 1-1 tie.

In the only other game, Pittsburgh Penguins emerged from the winless ranks with a 3-1 victory over California, leaving the Golden Seals the only NHL team without a win.

The Sabres' victory, their second of the season (they also have a tie) and first ever against an East Division club, was ignited by Ron Anderson's 50-footer while his team was short-handed.

The clearing-type shot eluded rookie Jim Rutherford in the Detroit goal at 13:40 of the third period and followed by 3/4 minutes Buffalo's tying goal by Cliff Schmautz.

The teams traded first-period goals before Detroit moved into a 3-1 lead in the second period. Detroit's veteran captain, Alex Delvecch, scored his 399 regular season goal, 6:00 on a 10:00 season goal before 10,000 Buffalo fans.

At Vancouver, playing in front of 15,351, the Canucks snapped a scoreless deadlock with Wayne Maki's fourth goal of the season at the 6:20 mark of the second period.

The lead stood until early in the third when veteran Jim Roberts tallied for St. Louis after rapping it behind veteran goalie Charlie Hodge when he was left uncovered in front of the Vancouver net.

Hopes Of Immaculata Dons Blighted By Penticton 22-0

Penticton Golden Hawks all but killed Immaculata Dons football playoff hopes with a 22-0 whitewash job in Penticton Friday night.

"They were really up for it," said defensive coach Chris Bergman, "a couple of long runs up the middle really hurt."

Penticton led 8-0 after one quarter and 14-0 at the half.

The only way the Dons can make the playoffs is for Kelowna Cubs to lose both remaining games.

The Cubs, who beat Immaculata 34-28 last Sunday here, play a weak Merritt team Sunday and Penticton here next Sunday.

The first and second place teams make the playoffs.

Bergman said the Dons, who finished the season with three wins and two losses, were victims of "Us doing everything wrong at the same time, and them doing everything right. They had a good rush on the offence, using an eight-man line."

Penticton had close to 270 yards rushing, with only one short pass completed, but the Dons' rushing was less than 70 yards.

Bergman said quarterback Mark Lang and Len Bedford played well for the Dons. Detailed scoring statistics were not available.

Kel-Bucks Make A Start To Schedule In Vernon

Kelowna Kel-Bucks, the city's junior B hockey club, begin their 16-game schedule Sunday in Vernon, when they meet the Legionnaires at 4:15 p.m. The Kel-Bucks have signed 19 players this season, many of which were dropped from the Kelowna Buckaroo squad earlier this year.

Among the Kel-Bucks are familiar names such as Rod Walker, a late cut from the Buckaroo camp, Wayne Stewart, who has been up and down for the junior A club, Leighton Waters, still of midlevel age, and Paul Kenting, youngest brother of the Buckaroos' Reg and Larry.

Manager Wayne Hubbard is looking for a most improved club over that of last season, and expects a more competitive league, which involves Vernon, Kamloops, Summerland, Merritt, and Penticton.

Hubbard, in his second year with the club, is currently in process of looking for a coach to take over Kel-Bucks, last season skipped by Jim Lowe.

Kel-Bucks make their home debut Nov. 4, when they play host to Penticton.

BASKETBALL DATE

Monday at the Kelowna secondary west gym at 7:30 p.m., teams will be picked for the men's basketball league, and registration will be made.

MUSEUM NOTES

Imagination Toys Delighted Children

By URSULA SURTEE

One of the chief ingredients in any game or toy of yesterday's children, was imagination. Not for them the doll that walks and talks, or the electrically heated or battery run cook stoves, irons and hair stylers. Little boys provided the moving force for lead soldiers and horses, and scooters were propelled by a good strong push of the foot.

In the museum there are a number of toys that were the treasure of some early Kelowna nurseries. Among them, two beautiful dolls, exquisitely made with china heads, real hair, eyes that closed, and double jointed limbs. These dolls are very versatile, as they were always ready to assume whatever role their young mistress chose to give them—a tea party perhaps with the Teddy Bear also in attendance, or they could share a secret, no demands to be fed, burped or changed, married this easy relationship. The dolls were treasured and if disaster struck and an eye or an arm were broken, a trip to the doll hospital took care of things.

Small boys, and big ones too, spent hours planning battle strategy and placement of their lead soldiers. Some of these soldiers are now collector's pieces. The uniforms and trappings are all exact in every detail, the Scotties in their kilts, and the mounted officers with drawn sword held aloft to lead the charge, even the buglers are complete to the last tassel. Many a battle raged over periods of days, with time out when the young generals were called to other duties. Many a horse had his legs repaired with a matchstick splint, and the soldiers lasted for years. Toys at that time were expected and built to last, and toys passed down through the families. Games were often of the kind that were educational, and story books nearly always had a moral to them showing graphic illustrations of the results of disobedience, bad temper, and too many goodies. Good and bad were clearly defined with no room for speculation on motivation.

Little girls often received a gift designed to educate in the ways of a good wife. We have a dear little butter making set for the little miss to try her hand at. Sewing baskets were another popular gift for girls. A number of boys were lucky to have a steam boiler, such as the one we have here. Ours is a handsome one of brass complete with gauge and brass taps. This could be fired up to run various things built of meccano or other model building materials. Budding engineers could do all manner of things with a boiler.

SWALLOWED MOUSE
Family entertainment was often the Magic Lantern Show. We have a beautiful Magic Lantern in the museum complete with several sets of colored glass slides. These tell the exciting story of Jack the Giant-killer, and other Fairy stories for the small; and travel slides for the adults. I think one of my favorite toys is a very simple one composed of two circular sheets of glass in a wood frame. On one sheet is the picture of an old gentleman asleep in bed with his mouth wide open. On the other sheet of glass is painted a little mouse. A handle on the side of the wood frame cranks this piece of glass around, which causes the little mouse to move gradually up the leg of the bed, over the covers and disappear into the wide open mouth of the old man. This toy has delighted many a modern day child, as we have taken it from time to time to the schools as part of one of our kits.

Instant Egg Makes Debut

OTTAWA (CP) — An agricultural researcher has hatched the era of the instant egg.

Dr. Moustafa Aref of the food research institute has developed a freezing process that will allow consumers to keep egg and liquid milk products conveniently in the family refrigerator for an indefinite length of time.

Eggs, cream, yogurt and cheese dipped in liquid nitrogen freeze instantly, can be stored in conventional freezers and thaw in minutes.

The process has several advantages according to Dr. Aref. "For example, frozen eggs emerge from liquid nitrogen freezing looking like popcorn. A housewife could keep the product in a plastic bag in her freezer, measuring out a tablespoon whenever she needs an egg for a recipe."

She would be assured of freshness and convenience and have more precise control over the quantity, Dr. Aref says.

WON'T POLLUTE

Liquid nitrogen, an inert gas that is neither toxic nor corrosive, would not cause pollution or residue problems. But, since it vaporizes, higher operating costs would make freezing economical only for products that retail over 50 cents a pound.

Dr. Aref is designing a container that should eliminate some of the vaporizing problems.

Although the new products would be convenient for household use, Dr. Aref says restaurants and processing industries will be the first to adopt them.

MR. AND MRS. D. R. TORRY

Torry-Davies Wedding Rites In Peachland United Church

PEACHLAND—A pretty wedding took place at the Peachland United Church Oct. 10 when Dana Ann Davies, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Davies of Peachland, became the bride of Donald Russell Torry of Calgary, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Torry of Herschel, Saskatchewan.

Officiating clergyman was Dr. R. D. Mitchell of Peachland, while Mrs. J. K. Todd of Peachland was the organist. After the ceremony the bride and groom, Richard Torry, sang "Ave Maria" accompanied on the organ by Linda Krahn of Calgary.

The radiant bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a floor-length gown of satin in an empire style which featured an overdress of rose-appliqued sheer with full wrist-length sleeves and a ruffled high neckline and a scalloped hemline. Her train was also of applique sheer and fell from her waist in graceful folds. A scalloped edge chapel-length veil was held in place by a headress of lily-of-the-valley and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

SILVER EARRINGS

For the bride's traditional something borrowed, she wore a pair of silver earrings borrowed from her mother and her something blue was a pretty blue garter.

Acting as maid of honor was Linda Krahn of Calgary while the bride's matron was Mrs. Rodney Messer of Westbank. Bridesmaids were sister of the groom Vivien Torry from Herschel, Sask., and Esther Okutake of Calgary.

All the bride's attendants were identically gowned in colorful floor-length blue print dresses with touches of pink. These were empire-line and featured scoop necklines with wrist-length sleeves and were accented with silver braid at the empire waistline and on the sleeves. In their hair they wore pink flowers and carried bouquets of pink and line carnations trimmed with silver ribbons.

BRIGHT DECORATIONS

At the reception in the Peachland Community Hall the bride's sister, Mrs. Rodney Messer of Westbank, and the bride's aunt, Mrs. Dana Wilson of Peachland, greeted the guests and looked after the guest book.

The hall was decorated with blue, white and pink streamers and featured silver cupid, wedding bells and white doves.

The bride's mother received wearing a floor-length gown of pink polyester crepe which was trimmed at the neckline and wrist with mother-of-pearl sequins, and she wore accessories of silver and a corsage of pink carnations.

She was assisted in the receiving line by the groom's mother who chose for her ensemble a floor-length gown of green tulle featuring a 'V' neckline accented in gold, and bronze sequin trim, with which she wore gold accessories and a corsage of brown carnations.

Master of ceremonies was J. G. Sanderson, while toast to the bride was given by Brian Flinchoff of Vancouver, which was ably responded to by the groom.

SOUTH OKANAGAN ELECTORAL DISTRICT NOTICE OF PROPOSED ROAD CLOSURE

Notice is given, pursuant to Section 11 of the "Highway Act," that it is the intention of the undersigned to discontinue and close all those portions of McMillan Boulevard within the boundaries of Plan 1799 in District Lot 1934 and District Lot 3496, O.D.Y.D.

Any person having reasonable objection to the closing of this road should submit such objection in writing to the District Engineer, Department of Highways, Kelowna, or the undersigned, within thirty days of the first publication of this notice.

A. L. FREEBAIRN, P.Eng. District Engineer. For: W. D. Black Minister of Highways. Department of Highways, Court House, Kelowna, British Columbia. 21 October, 1970.

SEIZURE WARRANT

Under and by virtue of a certain seizure warrant, I have seized one (1) Sherry Special Cottage of Cedar Construction, redwood stain with white trim, 22' x 24' being 528 sq. ft. in area upon skids and being 4 rooms including bathroom; post and beam style construction. Cedar deck ceiling with stained panel board interior. (Green in living room and brownish tinted pre-finished panelling in the bedrooms and bathroom) Gold, inside-outside Cronite carpeting throughout and with roof with an exclusive 6 foot overhang over front deck 6' x 24'.

Building can be seen on Highway 97, North next to Hannigan's.

Bids will be taken on or after November 1, but building can be seen anytime by calling Mr. Larry MacNeil at 765-6750.

Signed L. MacNEIL, Bailiff.

WHOLESALE Furnaces, Registers, Grilles, Pipes and Fittings 1975 Harvey Avenue (Rear) Hwy. 97 North, Kelowna, B.C.

CONTRACTORS, HOMEOWNERS

The Monterey pushbutton operated natural gas fireplaces are now available. No more hunting for firewood, and cleaning out ashes, just push button, and your Monterey fireplace is aglow with radiant heat. Install the Monterey fireplace across the corner of a room, or against the wall, at approximately half the cost of a brick fireplace.

The Monterey fireplace is safe, clean, and economical. It operates on a safe, low millivolt system, not on line voltage, and is approved by the Canadian and American Gas Associations.

Ask your heating contractor, or building contractor to install one for you, or call Krueger Heating Supplies Limited 1975 Harvey Ave. Phone 763-3952.

49. LEGALS & TENDERS

INVITATION TO TENDER SANITARY SEWERS FIVE BRIDGES COLLECTION SYSTEM CITY OF KELOWNA

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR FIVE BRIDGES COLLECTION SYSTEM," will be received at the office of the City Clerk, City of Kelowna, up to 4:00 p.m. local time, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10th, 1970.

The following are the principal items of work and approximate quantities:

1. The supply of materials and installation of the following:
 - (a) 2,800 lineal feet of 10" diameter sewer main.
 - (b) 7,500 lineal feet of 8" diameter sewer main.
 - (c) 1,900 lineal feet of 6" diameter sewer main.
2. The supply of materials and construction of 60 manholes and appurtenances.
3. The supply of materials and the construction of 3,700 lineal feet of service connections.

PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS may be examined at the Engineering Department Office, City of Kelowna, 1435 Water Street, Kelowna, B.C., on or before October 26th, 1970, and copies may be obtained by a bona fide tenderer upon deposit of $25.00. This deposit will be refunded following the return of the plans and specifications and submission of a tender. If a contractor does not submit a tender, his deposit will be refunded ONLY if the plans and specifications are returned in good condition prior to the closing of tenders.

TENDERS WILL BE OPENED AT THE KELOWNA CITY HALL AT 4:00 p.m., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10th, 1970.

Plans and specifications will also be on view at the Vancouver, Kelowna and Penticton Builders Exchanges for the convenience of their members.

Each tender must be accompanied by a security in the form of a Certified Cheque payable to the City of Kelowna, and the annexed letter of consent signed by a surety company, as called for in the Instructions to Tenderers Section of the documents.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

J. Hudson, Clerk, City of Kelowna, 1435 Water Street, Kelowna, B.C. October 24th, 1970.

Mediator Named

VICTORIA (CP) — Mediator Clive McKee was appointed Friday to arbitrate a contract dispute between 13 forest companies in the northern B.C. interior and the International Woodworkers of America, representing 3,500 workers.

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson made the appointment under Section 11 of the B.C. Mediation Act which gives the government the right to intervene if the public interest is or may be affected by a dispute.

Northern negotiations are being conducted in two parts with separate bargaining going on between the IWA and five Williams Lake firms and the IWA and eight members of the Northern Interior Lumbermen's Association in Prince George.

Talks which had broken off last month resumed this week when Jack Moore, IWA regional president, flew north with the results of a membership vote in favor of strike action to support negotiations.

The 28,000 coastal IWA members and 4,500 interior IWA workers already have accepted slight variations of recommendations giving them a 60-cent increase over two years with tradesmen receiving an additional 30 cents hourly.

Plans For Wildlife Range Depend On Claims In Yukon

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP) — A University of British Columbia law professor says development of a proposed wildlife range in the Yukon Territory hinges to some extent on as yet unspecified aboriginal claims to vast tracts of the Canadian arctic.

Prof. A. R. Thompson, chairman of the Arctic International Wildlife Conference told participants there is ample evidence to support the contention that Indians and Eskimos do have claims to land in the Yukon and Northwest Territories.

The conference was called to discuss possible development of an international wildlife range in the Yukon that would adjoin with a similar range in neighboring Alaska.

Prof. Thompson noted that the federal government has never signed a treaty with the Old Crow Indians in the Yukon, a band that now is considering court action to establish land claims.

No treaties have been negotiated with the Eskimos either, Prof. Thompson noted, and "the Eskimos too will likely assert their rights in the courts."

"It may be that the Eskimos whose ancestors traded with the crews of whaling ships along the Arctic coastline can assert a claim over portions of the proposed wildlife range," he said.

Current federal government policy, reinforced this summer

Dallas Cowboys Will See Red

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

After spending a Black Sunday with the Purple Gang, Dallas Cowboys will be seeing red, Dallas, embarrassed 54-13 last week by Minnesota Vikings and their ground-rattling front four, takes on an equally bullish rushing machine this Sunday in the red-shirted Kansas City Chiefs.

The Cowboys shoot Craig Morton at the hard-charging Chiefs. Roger Staubach, the other half of the Cowboys quarterback system, is on the shelf with a bad elbow.

Cavin Hill and new-found prize Duane Thomas are the Cowboys' chief running threats. Len Dawson, Kansas City's 1970 Super Bowl stalwart, is healthy again after an early season injury.

Detroit Lions hope to find Chicago their kind of town, visiting the Bears in another National Football League bone-buster Sunday.

Ships Like Tanker Arrow Won't Be Visiting Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — The oil tanker Arrow, which brought a pollution crisis to the coast of Nova Scotia last winter, was an ancient, substandard trawler of a sort which it will be possible to ban from Canadian waters in future, Transport Minister Don Jamieson told the Commons Friday.

Mr. Jamieson's description of the Arrow came as an almost unnecessary illustration of the need for his bill to protect Canadian waters from oil pollution. No sooner had the minister opened debate on second reading of the legislation than he was given full assurances of support from both Conservatives and New Democrats.

Mr. Jamieson said the legislation, introduced in the Commons earlier in the week as a series of amendments to the Canada Shipping Act, will enable the government to ban from Canada ships which fail to meet a detailed set of standards.

It would also, the minister said, "make the shipping community much more conscious of what I contend is its fundamental and basic responsibility."

PROVIDES HEAVY FINES

Provisions for insurance coverage and fines of up to $100,000 for failure to insure would end "any inducement for those who want to exploit the shipments of oil and the like to the maximum degree to use rotten or rusty tubs in which to carry this highly dangerous and highly polluting substance."

Mr. Jamieson added that he was particularly pleased with a part of the bill covering loss of income by fishermen as a result of pollution. The fishermen would be able to recover their losses from a maritime pollution fund built up through a levy of 15 cents a ton on oil cargoes.

Over-all, Mr. Jamieson said, the new legislation goes much farther than any other country's in order to protect the nation's coast.

"I make no apologies for that," Mr. Jamieson said. "We have seen historically the fact that the law of the sea generally has been in favor of the shipping community."

"I believe it is high time that we reserved the circumstances and attempted at least to correct the balance somewhat in our own account and in our own interest."

There was conflict between the NDP and the government over statements Wednesday by

First to offer a general endorsement of the legislation was Gordon Aiken (P.C.—Parrty Sound-Muskoka). His one reservation was that it might not go far enough.

Mr. Aiken was concerned in particular that the government might need more authority to take immediate action in the event of future pollution crises such as the wreck of the Arrow.

Accord also came from Mark Rose (NDP—Fraser Valley West).

One note of dissent was entered by James McGrath (P.C.—St. John's East). Mr. McGrath said Canada's failure to reach an agreement with France about fishing zones left unprotected the waters off the south shore of Newfoundland. The bill applies to territorial waters and fishing zones.

Support for the anti-pollution measures was in contrast to other proceedings during the day.

There was conflict between the NDP and the government over statements Wednesday by tary evidence that the F&Q had infiltrated the party organization in Quebec. Prime Minister Trudeau implied in his answer that no such link had ever been suggested.

Earlier, Mr. Trudeau started the House with a statement that the government has stated fully its reasons for proclaiming the War Measures Act.

Also concluded during the day was debate on the speech from the throne which ended after eight days of speeches when the House approved on a voice vote the traditional government motion for "an address in reply" to Governor-General Roland Michener.

Regional Expansion Minister Jean Marchand that the Front d'Action Politique, now at the end of its campaign in municipal elections in Montreal, is linked with the Front de Liberation du Quebec terrorists.

Ed Broadbent (NDP—Oshawa-Whitby) demanded that the government produce documents

CITY OF KELOWNA

AQUATIC REPLACEMENT FACILITIES

All organizations and citizens are invited to submit their suggestions and ideas for consideration in the planning of the Aquatic Replacement Facilities.

The Building Committee appointed by City Council is considering such possible uses as aquatic facilities, a community centre and recreation facilities, including banquet and assembly areas, meeting and activity areas, kitchen and catering facilities, change rooms and life-guard areas, facilities for arts and crafts and other recreation programs and administration, visitor and convention facilities. The final decision as to the type of facility, its location and the allocation of space will be a decision of the City Council but all suggestions will be considered in the development of the program.

It must, however, be recognized that it may not be possible to develop in one program or indeed in one building, facilities for all of the community's current needs but at the same time it is hoped that all needs will be considered and a comprehensive plan prepared.

Those organizations or individuals who wish to suggest uses, priorities or needs which should be taken into consideration in the planning of the Aquatic Replacement Facilities are requested to send their suggestions in writing to Mr. G. P. Stevens, Chairman, Building Committee, City Hall, Kelowna, prior to the end of November, 1970.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

Mar. 21 to Apr. 20 (Aries) — An outstanding day for pushing through important transactions.

Apr. 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Your family could spring a surprise—possibly in the way of an unexpected outing.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Don't fret over seeming lack of cooperation. Background influences working for you.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Have fun now. Your friends will be in an adventurous, devil-may-care mood.

July 24 to Aug. 23 (Leo) — Prepare yourself for a possible change. Be tactful and cooperative.

Aug. 24 to Sept. 23 (Virgo) — Leisure activities may prove expensive, but you'll enjoy them.

Sept. 24 to Oct. 23 (Libra) — Give special attention to matters affecting business colleagues.

Oct. 24 to Nov. 22 (Scorpio) — A good turn will be amply repaid in the near future.

Nov. 23 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius) — Your knowledge of current affairs boosts your stock with associates.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 20 (Capricorn) — Don't count on the promises of others; they're not likely to materialize.

Jan. 21 to Feb. 19 (Aquarius) — Discussions with experts produce useful ideas, guidance.

Feb. 20 to Mar. 20 (Pisces) — If dissatisfied with a transaction, negotiate changes now.

Astroaspects—Events in your home surroundings may be somewhat bewildering until mid-afternoon. Some members of your family may be unpredictable and erratic. It will be best to wait things out. Trying to get matters back on an even keel could result in resentment and even confusion. Planetary aspects in the evening will be far more generous, with harmony restored.

Regional Enteritis A Stubborn Ailment

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain "regional enteritis." Needless to say, I have been told I have it. So far I have been told what to do by four doctors and they don't agree with each other.

As near as I can get it, they don't really know too much about it. Meanwhile I suffer.—Mrs. G.B.N.

There are lots of ailments we wish we knew more about, which is why so much research is going on and why doctors read so many medical journals. I concur that regional enteritis is a perplexing problem, and also a notoriously stubborn one, and there are things we don't know about it.

What we do know is that it is an inflammatory condition at the end of the small bowel. When we say "inflammatory," that implies that some germ is stirring up the trouble. However, no single organism—bacterium, virus, parasite, or whatever—has been pinpointed. Still, the inflammation is there and the patient suffers.

You say four doctors don't agree. That could be. I would venture the thought, though, that there undoubtedly are several points in their treatment programs on which they do agree.

There are various medications to control diarrhea and pain. The exact ones do not matter as much as settling on whatever gives the patient substantial relief. The patient often (usually I'd say) needs vitamins. If there is any anemia, the patient should be treated for that, too.

Diet is variable but should be high in protein and of sufficient fat (high in calories) so the patient does not lose weight. Injections of crude liver extract have been helpful. Steroids (cortisone-type hormones) have been used with varying success.

Forms of the sulfa drugs, which do not absorb rapidly and hence are useful in bowel disorders, are frequently used with regional enteritis.

Thus there's room for variance as to which combination of treatments to use, but there are basic elements, too. (I certainly wouldn't advise trying all methods at once!)

Regional enteritis being the stubborn affliction that it is, you must allow ample time for any treatment. (Have you given all four doctors adequate time?)

Anyway, conservative (non-surgical) treatment should be given substantial trial first. Surgery for removal of the affected portion of the bowel may be necessary if there is hemorrhage, obstruction, or other complication.

Unhappily, I have to warn you that the recurrence rate of regional enteritis is rather high.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My mother-in-law says if you nurse a child it lessens the chance of getting pregnant right away. A friend who is attending parent classes at a hospital says this is not true. Who is right?—Mrs. J.M.

Probably both of them more or less. Nursing doubtless has some moderate and temporary influence in lessening the chances of pregnancy. But it definitely does not eliminate all chance of pregnancy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would it be injurious for a 53-year-old woman with varicose veins to ride a bicycle every day (or at any time)?—T.A.

No. The exercise will be helpful to your circulation. But be careful not to bump or otherwise damage the veins.

Opening lead—ten of clubs.
Luck plays a part in the outcome of many hands, but skill also has its place, especially when the cards are unfavorably divided.

Take this deal played in a team match. At the first table, North-South got to seven spades but went down two when West led a club and declarer won and attempted to cash the A-K of hearts. West scored a second trump trick when declarer tried to ruff two hearts in dummy.

The grand slam was actually a good contract, since about all that South needed was a 3-2 heart break.

At the second table, the contract was six spades. South decided to stop at a small slam, for while he knew that North had two aces, he was not sure of the queen of spades.

This contract would also have failed had South not taken the precaution of guarding against a 4-1 heart division. He won the club lead with the ace and cashed the two major aces, just as the previous declarer had done.

But then, instead of continuing with the king of hearts, he led a low heart. East won with the nine and returned a club, but by this time South was on Easy Street. He ruffed the club, trumped a heart in dummy, drew trumps, and easily scored the rest, since all his hearts were good tricks.

Having stopped at six spades, South's method of play was clearly correct. He could well afford to sacrifice the 30-point trick he would unnecessarily have lost had the hearts been divided 3-2. His goal was six spades, and he assured that contract by playing a low heart at trick four.

A bid in the hand is easily worth two in the bush!

KELOWNA HOUSE BUILDERS ASSOCIATION

AFFILIATED WITH THE NATIONAL HOUSE BUILDERS ASSOCIATION

THIS WEEK FEATURING:

MATT ULANSKY

BUILDING CONTRACTOR. PH. 762-4666 — KELOWNA

"QUALITY CONSTRUCTION"

Matt Ulansky moved to the Valley in 1937 and in 1947 started in the building trade. Then in 1955 moved to Kelowna, worked for a local contracting firm as a foreman. In the spring of 1959 Matt went into business for himself. Having 23 years experience in the building industry, he is well qualified as a builder of better homes. In 1964 one of his homes won the "National Award" as awarded by the "Canadian Housing and Design Council of Ottawa," of which he is proud. He specializes in quality, custom built homes and light industrial buildings. High quality construction has been his standard for the past 11 years. No job is too small or too difficult for him.

One of his latest projects is the new pro-shop for the Kelowna Golf & Country Club.

Matt would like to remind you that a home is a 24 hour proposition . . . It's what's happening all the time to you and your family . . . A home isn't rooms and furniture . . . it's an entertainment centre, a social centre, an educational centre . . . living centre. Living . . . living is the key. A home, your own home, can make the difference between mere existence and real living. Think about your family and think about living, think about yourself. Think about a new home.

Remember: "A House Built by Matt Is Where Good Living Begins"

Ever since 1963 Interior Floor & Supply's reputation for honesty, integrity, and guaranteed expert craftsmanship has continued to grow.

Interior Floor & Supply is owned and operated by Ken Ottoson, who came to Kelowna in 1959 from New York city, and by Art Zimmerman who came from Calgary in 1963. Art began in the floor covering industry in 1948 in the wholesale and retail aspect. Together with Ken, they have a combined total of 30 years experience in all phases of floorcovering.

Now there are two additional, well-qualified, sales representatives to look after every domestic requirement.

All installations by the qualified experts at Interior Floor & Supply are backed by a workmanship guarantee — one of the best in the business.

It is a policy of Interior Floor Supply to carry a large stock of floor-covering in both their warehouse and store, as well as one of the largest selections of samples in the valley for their patrons to choose from.

It's plain to see why Interior Floor & Supply is known throughout the construction industry as one of the most progressive and competitive floor-covering firms from the U.S.A. border to Kamloops.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that all the fellows at Interior Floor & Supply, 1541 Harvey Avenue, Kelowna, look forward to serving you. Just drop in, or call 763-2200 whenever you need qualified advice.
